Head/Face Protection

These products combine personal comfort, fashionable good looks and over all value. Depending on the use, the wearer can select from several different models and colors.

Foot Protection

Scientists and engineers for centuries have marveled at the design and structure of the human foot. The human foot is rigid enough to support the weight of your entire body, and yet flexible enough to allow you to run, dance, play sports, and to take you anywhere you want to go. Without your feet and toes, your ability to work at your job would be greatly reduced.

Hearing Conservation

Hearing products are some of the most recognized on the market. 3M™ Peltor™ products are a global leader in 2 - way communications, offering a broad selection of headsets and 2 way radio accessories for use in a variety of high noise environments.

Hearing Conservation
